3. As we enter the Christmas Concert Season, please do your part to set a good example for our students in regards to appropriate “Christmas Concert Behavior.” Our students and teachers work very hard to put on a quality concert and they deserve a classy, appropriate audience. Thank you for your understanding.

7. Below is a message I read to our junior/senior high students before Thanksgiving Break: “I want to take this opportunity to say thank you. I realize you are not told this enough, but there is nobody better and I would not trade you for any other student body. I am so blessed to be the principal of this school and the reason why is you.....and your teachers. The daily grind sometimes does not allow me to see the big picture and the big picture is: our junior/senior high is second to none and YOU are the reason why. Is everything perfect here? Heck no. No place is and no person is perfect. However, it doesn’t get much better than this. What we have here is special. Most students who have been other places would concur. Am I satisfied? Heck no. I still feel we have way too much drama brought into our school each day. I still feel like way too many students put others down because they don’t like themselves...but we are improving and we will continue to improve. Your teachers and I constantly talk about how good we have it and how it is not like this every place else. You are the reason Southeastern is the best. Happy Thanksgiving.” – D. Todd Fox.
