

6th-8th Vocal creating a verse and a chorus day two observation

Students were very busy practicing and doing recordings of their songs. I was going around monitoring their progress and listening to each work. Next class period will give them one last chance to make any necessary changes a practice their performance. Right now the songs look like they are all working. I hope there won't be any performance jitters.