

Observation of Composer facts

The groups worked together reading and finding the facts they needed. I worked with one group to keep them focused and I read the information to help them understand the information about the composer. I was the leader of my group and I assigned one leader in each group. The leader did help guide each group, but each member was able to give their opinion of what facts needed to be highlighted about the composers.