

Middle School Girls Volleyball Prepare for the Season

By: Arianna Camacho

The Golden Plains Middle School Volleyball Team has nineteen girls out. Many of them are hyped for the season to begin, and their practices are going very well. All the girls are working hard in that super hot gym. The sixth-grade girls are very enthused for the season, especially since it's their first year of volleyball. Their first game is September 12 at Triplains/Brewster, and the girls are excited to get out there, play the best they can, and hopefully come home with a win.

KayCee Miller is a seventh-grader who suited up last year for the varsity junior high team. A personal goal of hers is to improve as the season goes, not just mentally but physically, too. "In order to achieve my goal I plan to hustle and do my best at all times in and out of practice." She pronounced. "I feel we need to be more motivated and become closer together like a family."

"Improvement every day and hard work is what I want to see this year." said Coach Mindy Fleckenstein. The last time Middle school Volleyball Team won League Tournament was in 2009 when they went undefeated. This year the team's goal is to win the League Tournament. The Team's motto this year is "The dictionary is the only place where success comes before work. Work is the key to success, and hard work can help you accomplish anything." –Vince Lombardi Jr.
