

The Strange Text Message

By Morgan Wark

Wow! I just got the strangest text message ever. I just woke up and my phone starts going off. I look at my phone and it says I've got a new text message from Stranger03. When I was getting ready for school it goes off again. So I decide to check my messages. It said, "I'm in your house. Watch your back." I went to ask my mom about the message but she didn't know who would have sent such a strange text message.

When I got to school, I told my friend Jesalynn about my message and she thought the new kid sent it, but I wasn't sure because I don't know how he would have gotten my number. We decided to ask the new kid some questions but he didn't know the answer to any of them. He was not our suspect anymore. So we decided to just go on with our day.

I got home around 4:00 so I decided to do some research on strange text messages, but all it gave me was a lot of stuff on how to text. I had no idea what to do. So I decided to go to bed because it was getting late. "I'm going to be tired tomorrow," I keep thinking.

The next morning when I arrived at school I decided to ask the S.S.S (secret spy squad) for help. I have asked them for help many, many times. Like the one time I lost my little brother. And my wallet. I didn't like asking them for help because they always take things so seriously. But they were my only choice. Trust me, I did not want to ask them for help.

I told them my problem and they took my phone. I didn't know why they took my phone but when I asked the why they just said, "Don't worry about it, Morgan, we're just going to do some tests." I started to get more suspicious about the S.S.S. They don't know any body's name. I mean they didn't.

The next day they gave me back my phone but it wasn't my phone it was theirs. It said, "Make sure you don't tell Morgan that I sent the text message." It was from Lara my annoying little sister. No wonder I dislike them so much. My sister is the captain of the S.S.S. the one person who tells them what to do. I gave them their phone back and they gave me mine. But I didn't tell anyone. Me and Jesalynn decided.....Payback☺
